Find out exactly why your current training methods are NOT working, and how you can turn frustrating training time into amazing bonding sessions between you and your 'best friend'!

Owning a dog is probably one of the most fulfilling life experiences that anyone could ever have. Getting a dog is a life-changing event, but you already know that don't you!

The day I brought home my first puppy, everything changed. Those first few months were just perfect and little Violet could do no wrong, even when she did.

Of course, you can't blame a little puppy for peeing all over the house, chewing up important documents, begging for food or anything else they might get up to. At that age they just don't know any better. But they do need to learn some good habits and forget the bad ones before that adorable little puppy becomes a great big nuisance.

Just imagine having a best friend, so loyal that it would walk hundreds of miles to find you in case he or she got lost. Yes, dogs have been known for finding their owners over unimaginable distances if you didn't know that!

Imagine that no matter what you're going through in life, your 'best friend' would always be there to support you.

It's sad, but true at the same time. I was so disappointed to come home after going out for just a little while and finding everything in my house...
