Big companies like Microsoft, Apple, Nintendo, Sony and many others release some seriously cool gadgets, don't they? iPhones, Xboxes, PlayStations, PSPs, laptops, TVs, Wiis, iPods... the list goes on. They're the latest and greatest toys, and everyone wants them.

Their only problem is they're HUGELY expensive. But not any more! You're about to discover how to slash the costs of these gadgets down to... wait for it...

But would you do me a small favour? For the next few minutes, forget your skepticism so I can tell you about it. After that you can make up your own mind about whether you want to keep paying for your gadgets, or whether you want to become part of a very special group of people "on the inside"...

You see, there is a "dirty" secret that not many people know about, and today, I'm going to let it out. The secret which I'm going to expose will give you access to all the free gadgets you've ever wanted, now and forever.

You're waiting in line. You've been there for hours, standing outside your favourite gadget shop trying not to freeze your toes off. You've been saving for weeks, maybe months, eagerly awaiting the launch of the latest brand new handheld console, mobile phone, games console, video game, laptop, MP3 player, or whatever it is.

Finally you get into the shop and hand over hundreds of dollars of your hard earned money on a piece of hardware small enough to fit into your pocket. Although it feels good, you can't help but notice a nagging feeling that you've just blown a heck of a lot of money.

You are sitting at home, in your favourite comfy seat. You've just seen an advert on TV announcing the release of a brand new mobile phone...
