Instant Golf Slice Cure - "The Dave Way"

... Are you tired of dealing with a nasty slice when you go out to play a round with your friends, family, or co-workers ? Not to mention the embarrassment ?

... Have you tried all the latest training aid's only to find that your Golf Slice cannot be stopped by some gizmo you just spent 200 bucks on ?

... Have you gone to the range and somehow you miraculously started to hit straight golf shots, saying to yourself... "I think I got it, I think I got it!" ... then when you hit the course your score card still looked horrible ?

... Or are you the type of golfer that wants to get better, spending countless dollars on lessons and expensive clubs, but nothing seems to put a dent in your Golf Slice ?

"The Dave Way" Easy to Learn Steps Simple Practice Drills -equals- Straight Drives! Explosive Distance!

It is surprising to me that.... golfers continue to spend huge sums of money on fancy golf training aids and expensive lessons to recreate their golf swing. If you bought the latest training gadgets all through the year you would have to make Tiger sums of money to support your habit. And lessons aren't cheap either! Fifty to a hundred bucks an hour, for some pro to take your swing, break it down and mold it into some swing you will never achieve... of course you might achieve it after 3-5 years with the same coach. Absolutely Ridiculous!

Dave, I have to tell you my story. It may be quite pre-mature, but it's worth telling. I'll keep it short. I'm 29 and I've been playing golf since I was about 18 or so. My dad is a consistent golfer - usually shoots in the mid to high 80's. He's taught me most of what I know, which isn't really that much...
