So What Was My Evaluation In Owning the Samsung PN64D8000 HD Television?

I have owned the Samsung pn64d800 HD Tv for about 3 months now, and we've watched this Tv almost every day. So we've had plenty of time to break it in, see how the functions all function, and even entertain loved ones and buddies with it, too. In reality, we hosted a Super Bowl party with it a couple of months ago, and all of our guests were blown away by the experience with watching Tv on a large size like this and also by the high quality picture and sound, too. We've rarely been to a party, especially a football party, where everybody was merely riveted to the screen like they were!

So far, we've used the Samsung pn64d800 HD Tv to see 3D films, connect with movie rental services online, and even to Skype with my son, who is out at college. My teenagers which are here at home have also used the Tv to play their game playing systems, and their buddies are merely beside themselves using the large pictures and sounds on the big screen once they all stop by for gaming.

We did have to generate slight adjustments to the screen using the Samsung PN64D8000 HD Tv, but having a Tv of this size and caliber, that was absolutely expected. Beyond that one envisioned service call, we've had no issues with it at all. It has more than pleased us with its image high quality, sound high quality, and added functions. Completely, this really was the Tv I was searching for with its high-end innovations and capability to truly take our Tv watching experience to incredible new levels. I really could not have requested a better Tv, and I do extremely highly recommend this model to everybody who desires to convey their Tv watching experience to a new level.
